" FOR WAYS THAT ARE DARK, &c."

A typical Chinese dodge is being circumwented by the officials in Canton. At is known that the Board of Works has decid. Departure from Macao at 5 P.M. ed to remove more or less of the city wall, and, indeed, have already been at work onthe undertaking. The Board has promised that all those whose shops or houses are being interfered with, or that may be torn down, will be indemnified according to the value of the property so indicated by the face of the deeds in the owner's possession. So it has apparently atruck some of these owners that in this there is an opportunity for making a little out of the Government. They have, therefore, set about selling their property to buyers who are supposed to be giving more for it than it is worth. and thereaf er when the deeds are stamped. this bogus price will be demanded by the owner, according to the promises of the Government. It must be admitted that the scheme is rather clever, and typically Chinese. But the officials apparently have had their suspicions a roused by the number of transactions they have been called upon. to stamp and pass in the yamen, and so have discovered what is being done. The result is that an order has been issued that no more decds are to be stamped, and so no further transfers of property can b

PRESENTATION: OF PE 215.

There was a large gathering of members of the Club and friends on Saturday afternoon when the prizes won were presented by Mrs Anderson, President of the Club. Afterwards Lied. Col. Wrigley said that on the pecision of the annual prize distribution it was customary for him to say a few words in reference to the L. P. C. He was sorry to say that the membership had fallen off slightly, there being twelve mombers less than last year, but the number then was exceptionally high. They, hoped, however, that the decrease was only femporary as the success of a club of that kind depended largely upon its membership. The w ather, during the year had not been conducive to the promotion of outdoor aport. Eume of the members had stuck valiantly to their shooting nevertheless. and that the dab was capable of some excellent shooting could be seen by the score-book. One mumber made up her mind to get the highest possible scorbefore the end of the sesson, and, he was pleased to say, she just managed to do so. I He merely mentioned that as an instance that perseverance was a necessity. He was sorry to say that he would be obliged to sever his connection with the club as he was going home in the aubumn. He had had handed to him a beautiful pre-Sent for which he thanked the members most heartily. He would value it very highly. He had always been pleased to help forward the club in any way. , Their thanks were due to 3 rs Auderson for kindly presenting the prizes, and to Mrs Jordan, who was unfortunately giving up the secretaryship, and who had worked ex which it had proved. The Lugard Cup.

THE FREIGHT MARKET. We are informed by Messrs. Lamke and Rogge that "The freight market has not undergone any material change during the past fortnight, and the amount of chartering transacted is on about the same scale as last reported. Business as far as Southern Rice ports is concerned was dragging early. in the fortnight on account of the scanty supplies coming in however, arrivals Paddy seem to be more plentiful lately judging by the inquiries for prompt tonnage Saigon/Hongkong and to Philippines, and consequent fixtures effected, and it goes without saying that more chartering business would have resulted had it not been for the limited available supply of prompt boats. The North reports that trade there is fairly brisk, and owing to liners being well employed on their regular run and

Just at the time of writing we hear of a steamer having been fixed in Manila at 25 cents per picul. It is expected that a good deal of tonnage will be wanted in this direction this month: Saigon to Japan :- During February and March 10,660 tons were shipped, all in Japanese bottoms.

Bangkok to Hongkong :- Liners have INTERNATIONAL DANKING not sufficient employment on the regular run. This year's crop is practically a failure. > MANCHESTER WEEKLY MORKET BEFORE Messes James F. Hullon & Co. Lad. Manchester, report under date March 21 The movement of America cotton dinto sight, for the week ending the 15th instra wan 240,000 bales; last your for the same work it was 100,000 bales the movement out of watt he endoirerior of American to the world a spinners, was for the same week 365.000 tales and just year 238,000

Last mail day Liverpool Bpot Amelian

resched to 12 the highest of this war New 1

York cotton market being chiefly responsible for the upward movement, the weather news and the strength of Liverpool being used as the principal levers to life prices up to that point. The Bull cliques were not, however, able to maintain the market, and the following day there was a moderate reaction. The reported large ginning returns, the big movement of Cutton, and the coal miners' strike in this country, which will soon lead to serious curtailment of cotton consumption, being adduced as the principal reasons for the pause in the unward movement.

Mn T. R. Ellison gives the surplus stock in spinners hands on Feb. 28th-for Europoas 2,507,000 bales against 2,100,000 bales last year and the "visible supplies" shewn are very substantial, while the States have experienced the finest winter for conditioning the land, and Mr Ellison thinks the advance in value discounts any probability of reduction in area to be planted for the new season.

Stoppage of mills in this district has Doves, -- Pan Kau scarcely begun yet, after three weeks coal strike, but we shall now undoubtedly witness serious curtailment of ofton consumption and output of yarns and textiles, with consequent dislocation of dates of shipment—the railways are al ready announcing restrictions as to haulage of production.

The conferences between coal owners, niners and Government officials have failed to reach agreement, and now the Government are passing a bill through Parliament on the subject, the end of the strike not yet being in sight. Reports from China up to the 1st inst., to hand by mail, state that the nation appeared to be accepting the situation calmly. From Shanghai we hear the market had been very quiet since the New Year Holidays, private business being absent, while two of the weekly Auctions had been started on the 28th ult. on a smaller scale, the results being fairly satisfactory. The main difficulty in the way of a general resumption of trade was the financial si untion and business was further hindered by the proposed reduction in the Native Bank orders from 5 days usance to 3 days, put forward by the Chamber of Commerce and supported by the foreign banks and import mer-... Hongkong to Manila :- The Standard chants, while the Native Piece Goods onger neance. (It sppears there were 16 Native Banks opened at Shanghai after the Chinese New Year), N twithstanding better feeling was reported, and signs of activity were already apparent in some of the local Hongs. The local press market reports state that large transactions have been done again for India, especially in shirtings and light goods, while the India houses generally have done a fair all round business, but on a smaller scale per week than last month. China is reported as having done business here in both staples and fandy goods There are pleuty, of fancy goods, prima year at 4 / per annum or for shorter consumers have taken up on Emechanter ions, the Irish Executive will fill the vucincies as they occur, and that this will mean nicrely pucking." form of moral evil peculiarly rile in the Emerald lale. We need not enlarge upon the point just now.

In Mr GLADSTONE'S first bill, it will be remembered, he proposed to entirely exclude Irish members from the parliament at Westminster and the suggestion met with, very great disapproval among many of his own supporters as well as in the sister Kingdom: Lord Acron in his reminiscences gives a vivid description of the attempts made to induce Mr GLADSTONE to give way on this point. But though he indulged in many mystifying speeches on the point he obstinately refused to make any concession. Yet in his second bill he allowed for 80 Irish members being sent to Westminster elected by newly designed set of constituencies but their voting powers were confined to purely Irish subjects. Mr Asquirth has cutathis very liberal quota down leaves the Iresh representatives unare apparently somewhat on the lines of the 1893 bill, except that provision extinction of the Royal Irish Constabulary after the lapse of six years. This proposal evidently did not find St. Stephen's College Sports, Happy would have mentioned it in his speech. Old age pensions and compulsory insurance have come into being since naturally they find no place in his proposals.

in his financial proposals than GLADSTONE was willing to be, due we presume to the abandonment of the sounder system of finance upon which the G.O.M. worked. In regard to the question of religious liberty the provisions of the two previous bills have been amplified by Mr Asquirn in several particulars, more especially with regard to civil marriages. Under the new proposals, no religious rite marriage valid in the eye of the lawthe rest of the Empire. These are the main differences which we have discovered in comparing the bills of 1886 and 1893 with the summary of Mr Asquitti's speech which Reuter Parliament merely in a saving clause cabled out to the Far East on Friday extra pension. nserted among "miscellaneous provi- last. They are interesting and sions." In 1893 this very necessary their way significant.

On the motion that financial minutes referred to the Finance Committee, Hon Mr Hewett opposed No. 16, which was a vote of £37.0.9, pension to the Chief Justice. "Hew said the vote, practically amounted to a permanent increase in the pension of the Chief Justice over and above the pension he was entitled to under the to 42, namely, one for very 100,000 of terms of his service in the Government the population entitled to vote, and Service. The sum did not appear to be a very large one, but if they were once to pass this amount they would be called fettered. The constabulary clauses upon to vote £57 or £60 a year for the rest of the lifetime of the Chief Justice. This vote was being suddenly sprung upon the Council and by it they was originally made for the gradual were asked to increase the pension of the second highest paid official in the Colony who had only served in the Colony seven years, by something like 125 times-that was to say, that if this official retired from favour with. Mr Asquire, else he the service on his 60th birthday he would be entitled to something like £450 ffrom Hongkong Colony, but he was retiring after only 18 years' service in Government employ with a pension of considerably GLADSTONE passed to his rest so over £700, which was something like double the pension of a Colonel after or 40 years' service with the risk of being killed for his country. Mr Asquitt is far more generous He (Mr Hewett) could not conceive why this note was brought forward and he certainly was opposed to it very strongly on principle. In all the years he had been Office. in Hongkong he had never known such an application to come before the Council. "I can only conceive," said Mr Hewett, that it is due to the high position which this particular civil servant holds, to his persistence, and, I might even say, his excessive importunity, that this vote has reached this Council." He moved the rejection of the vote. Hon: Mr Osborne formally seconded.

Hon. Mr Pollock said be could not agree with Me Hewett's remarks, for he thought K.C., asked :will be necessary to make a civil the circumstances of this perticular case were rather exceptional. There doubt that if the Chit Justice thus bringing Ireland into line with | had served a few months longer he would have been entitled to the extra pension which it was proposed to vote to him: Since the Judge arrived in the Colony a special Ordinance had been passed enabling certain Officials to be retired at the age of 60 years, and if that Ordinance had not been passed since the Chief Justice's appointment, he would have served the additional three months and corned the > Hon. Mr Ross thought Mr Hewett was allowing his ideas of principle to over-tide his sense of justice. The Chief Justice came here under certain rules and if those rules still existed he would be entitled to this pension. That the change had been made in the rules was not his fault.

> His Excellency the Administrator said it was not the passing of the Ordinance subsequent to the Chief Justice's arrival which actuated the Government in making this proposal. One of the reasons which had actuated the Government was this :-It was a very usual custom in the public service to grant as officer three months leave on full salary prior to his retirement. that had the effect of increasing his pensignable service by three mouths and in many cases, of increasing the number of years' bervice for pension by one. Hayes and Daniels met first in the Feather Weight competition, the former winning in the first round. The fighting was furious while it lasted during which both men found the floor for a brief period. Hayes was the stronger and cleverer man. In this competition Reache scratched and F. Maber drew a bye. R. Snell mot J. Edwards but at the end of the third round the fighting was no even that the referes called for an extra two minute round. which went in favour of Edwards who supplied some attractive boxing, while Snell did some splendid guarding and foot work, and was very effective with his right, In the semi-final Maher, the only representative of the VR.C., went pluckily into the fray against Hayes but from the first he was hopelessly beaten, the referee awarding the match to Eayes in the second round. Maker, however, came in for a spirited ovation. The final between Hayes and Edwards only lasted a few seconds, for the latter could not recover in time from a knock out blow to the jaw. Hayes was therefore the winner of the cup. Dr. Harston announced that Mr A. Rodger had presented a cup to the runner up. Fairly creditable boxing was provided by some of the light weights. Cook met Smith, but the latter in a brief time had his man beaten. Latham proved much too good for Greenwood, the referee stopping the fight in the second round. He did not put up a good display, Latham always being on the aggressive. In the temi-final Latham won on points against Dean, but there was little to choos. between the men. Dean showed himself to be very clever at in fighting but he had to be wary of Latham's swings and straight lefts. From these Dean was much relieved when time came to his aid in the second round. Latham won the final against Smith, who, though he appeared to be equal to Latham and there was a question as to what the referee's decision would have been, to the surprise of everyone suddenly gave just before the finish. He was evidently weakened by two or three body punches. In the first round he floored his opponent for a count of three seconds, and in the second round for four seconds.

SOLDIESS SHIELD PINAL

The K.O.Y.L.L. Football Club proved a trifle too strong for the Royal Engineers in the final which was played at Happy Valley on Saturday ofternoon. The game throughout provided much to interest slarge number of spectators, but the Yorkshires were the cleverer side in front of goal, and by the hino that the int real arrived had netted three goals whereas the Engineers were only able to respond with one. They, however, wore the first to score, the point coming as a result of one of their men being fouled in the penalty area. Pearson pufting into the not blatters for a time looked rather grave for the Yorkshires and indeed it seemed as though their colours would be lowered for the first time this seem. They appeared unaffected by this sudden reverse, however, and were not long in getting into their customery strice then there was no hold ing them and they soon had three goals to their credit. In the second half play was not quite so vizorous. Some excellent play on the Yorkshires right culminated in ano her goel to them, while nearing the finish Brown, when unattended received a nice page and had little difficulty in running through with it. The Engineers were at times much pursed by the good conditionation of the Yorkshires who theroughly deserved their win by 4 goals to 22
